1. The present supplies of wheat and flour in Denmark are considered sufficient to cover total consumption for the balance of the season and for about two months beyond that.
2. Prospects for the new wheat crop to be harvested in August 1953 are excellent but nevertheless there will be some wheat imported during the next year.
3. The recent trade agreement between Norway and the USSR calls for 55-thousand tons of wheat and 30-thousand tons of rye from the USSR in exchange for stipulated amounts of Norwegian fish and herring.
